By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(International News Service)

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 5.—

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today that the glory-covered mechanized First Cavalry will occupy Tokyo Saturday morning (Friday afternoon, U. S. time).

Troops of the division—heroes of the liberation of important airports on the southwestern outskirts of Tokyo and other key points in the capital area.

Prior to the official announcement by MacArthur's headquarters, the Japanese Domei agency had broadcast a special Japanese government communication saying 3,350 U. S. troops would move into metropolitan Tokyo Friday (Japanese time) at Hachioji City, hub of rail lines running into Tokyo and Yokohama.

Gen. MacArthur, moving swiftly and firmly to expand the grip of his occupation forces throughout the Japanese home islands, is expected to follow the cavalry into Tokyo and establish headquarters at the U. S. embassy.

He now occupies a private residence in Yokohama.

Report Former Jap Premier Tojo Wants To Face Trial

By CLARK LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 5.—Gen. Hideo Tojo, Japanese premier when the Japs made their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, was reliably reported to be alive and ready to face trial as a war criminal.

Tojo, symbol to Americans in the early days of the war of all that was evil in Japan, will not commit harakiri, according to authoritative sources, but will willingly give himself up to face an allied court. He feels he has a lot to say.

Living Quietly

The former premier is said to be living quietly somewhere in the country—not in hiding, but in obscurity. He's the most hated man in Japan.

New Executive Of Girl Scouts Takes Over Job

Miss Clare Eason Comes To Local Council After Training
At New York Camp

Filling a post which has been vacant since the resignation of Mrs. Marjorie Miller, Miss Clare Eason, of Ellenville, New York, has arrived to begin her work as the executive secretary of the Lawrence county Girl Scout council.

Although she has been in Girl Scouting only a short time, the blonde and vivacious executive is enthusiastic about her work, and is interested in learning as much as possible about New Castle and New Castle Girl Scout troops. Miss Eason, the daughter of a Methodist minister, graduated from Syracuse university in 1943. As her major had been in geography, she was qualified for a position in Washington, D. C., with the Army Map Service, where she worked until August 1944.

From September 1944 until last March, Miss Eason studied and worked with the Y. W. C. A. in Washington, and during this summer she has been taking special training or Girl Scout executives at Camp Edith Macy in Pleasantville, New York.

New officers of the council which will serve with Miss Eason are: commissioner, Miss Paul Forney; deputy commissioner, Miss Helen Wilson; secretary, Miss James B. Hurst; and treasurer, Mrs. W. Keith McAfee.

Returning members for the first peacetime session in four years expressed doubt, however, that the differences of opinion would result in an open break between the White House and congress.

No bills were ready for immediate action as senate and house readied themselves for a session which may continue until Christmas. Little work is expected to be done in either branch this week.

The senate was to recess out of respect to the late Sen. Hiram Johnson of California while the house was to indulge in speech-making.

Await Truman's Message

The presidential reconversion program is expected to be high-lighted in a message from Mr. Truman which may be read to congress tomorrow.

The program thus far outlined by leaders includes the $25-a-week maximum unemployment compensation bill, the full employment measure, a single surplus property administrator, government reorganization and continuation of emergency laws with tax legislation also certain of consideration.

The $25-a-week maximum unemployment compensation measure has run into stumbling blocks in both houses.

'Benevolence' Of Hirohito Ended War, Japs Told

Japanese Premier Addresses
Diet And "Explains" How Conflict Was Ended

ALLIED AIR MIGHT

TOKYO, Sept. 5.—Jap anese Premier Prince Maru-hiko Higashi-Kuni told the Japanese Diet today that the end of the bloody Pacific war was brought about "solely through the benevolence" of Emperor Hirohito.

In an address delivered separately to both houses of the Diet, the emperor's kinsman continually paid tribute to Hirohito's "boundless benevolence" and called for complete obedience to imperial commands.

Ignores Hirohito's Status

The premier very obviously ignored Hirohito's present status as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's puppet and made no reference to the allied refusal to guarantee the emperor's sovereignty.

In reference to surrender negotiations, the premier explained that Hirohito himself made the final decision to capitulate after Japan's 100 million people faced annihilation. Then he added:

"It was decided to accept the terms of the Potsdam declaration with the understanding that the declaration did not comprise any demand which would prejudice the prerogatives of his majesty as the sovereign ruler."

The war of greater east Asia has thus been brought to an end."

The premier not only credited the (Continued on Page Two)

Baruch Urges Work Director Be Appointed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Bernard M. Baruch recommended today the appointment of a federal "work director" to see that all workers—citizens as well as ex-servicemen—have jobs in the post-war world.

This was the highlight of a comprehensive report on veterans' matters Baruch submitted to Gen. Omar N. Bradley, newly-appointed veterans' administrator.

Baruch's proposal was based on his belief that "the human side of demobilization is being neglected tragically."

"There now prevails a 'no man's land' of neglect of the human problems of the changeover from war to peace," Baruch said. "The first need is a vigorous, imaginative work director to vitalize the post of administrator of retraining and re-employment to accomplish the human side of demobilization is not forgotten."

HERSHEY, Pa., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's GOP congressional delegation indicated today that Gov. Edward Martin would be the Republican candidate for U. S. senator next year.

WHERE'S THE JAP FLEET? WHY, HERE IT IS'

Once boasting of the third largest fleet in the world, Japan's sea power was cut to a few capital ships, 20 destroyers and 10 submarines and the ships were "surrendered" at the Kure naval base by Admiral M. Kanazawa to two American correspondents. Most of the Jap fleet is pictured above. The two correspondents were Clark Lee of International News Service and Bob Brumby of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Three Are Dead In Train Wreck In California

ARCADIA, Cal., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Rescue workers labored far into the early morning hours today with acetylene torches to release the injured and the dead from the wreckage of the Santa Fe's Chicago-bound California limited.

The second section of the limited was an hour out of Los Angeles Union depot last night when in suburban Arcadia, it hit either a split switch or broken rail and catapulted its two huge locomotives, two baggage cars and the front two passenger cars into a mass of tangled wreckage.

Three Are Killed

Three persons were killed, a brakeman was missing, and at least 50 suffered injuries.

The dead were taken to a temporary morgue established in the Arcadia hospital.

Proposal For Two Years' Service For Draftees Dropped

House Committee Pigeonholes Proposal Recommended By President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—President Truman's recommendation for a two-year period of service for postwar inductees has been pigeonholed by the house military affairs committee.

Members explained today that the house group felt that it was inappropriate to consider the proposal now in view of the committee's decision not to take any action on the draft for the present.

Limit Inductions

This coincided with an announcement by Sen. Thomas (D) Utah, senate military affairs committee chairman, that he was introducing a bill generally carrying out the president's recommendations for continuing the draft, but limiting future inductions to men 20 through 25. The president had suggested that men aged 18 through 25 be inducted.

Failure of the house committee to take action on the president's recommendation will mean, however, that inductees will continue to be taken "for the duration of the war and six months," an indefinite period as the term "duration of the war" has not yet been decided.

There was no indication that either congress or the president intended to proclaim a legal end to the war soon.

Quisling's Trial Again Resumed

OSLO, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The treason trial of Vidkun Quisling, Nazi puppet premier of Norway, was resumed today after an adjournment of several days to allow the defendant to rest.

American Flag Again Flies On Wake Island

WAKE ISLAND, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The American flag flew over Wake Island today, marking the end of one of the most glorious chapters in marine history.

The flag was run up at 1:30 p. m. yesterday (Wake time) with a marine color guard and about 75 officers and men from the U. S. destroyer escorts Levy, Grier and Lehigh present.

A small force of American seamen and marines went ashore with a flagpole to raise the symbol of occupation, within a few days after a Japanese aerial attack on the island had ended.

The Jap admiral, his staff and approximately 40 of his garrison stood at attention and saluted as the flag was raised.

Rear Adm. Shigetatsu Sakata, bareheaded, signed the formal surrender document while Marine Brig. Gen. Lawson S. Anderson of Shelton, Wash., commanding general of the fourth marine wing, signed for the allies.

More than 100 prisoners, who just pushed past their Jap guards, walked into Yokohama today and 962 others arrived by train from the copper mines of Ashio.

American prisoners, including 300 Americans, were pulled en masse from months of mine labor under brutal Jap overseers.

Within 48 hours, seven trains are due in Yokohama from Niigata bearing 2,047 prisoners and 488 more will be recovered from Kobe tomorrow. Many of those in the Kobe group are suffering from tuberculosis, Japanese authorities said.

More than 350 liberated men have been evacuated by sea and air to Manila and Okinawa, first leg of their long-awaited journey home.

Government Of Japan Charged With Atrocities

Brutal Massacre Of 150
American War Prisoners
Included In List

STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUES INDICTMENT

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.

A long list of Japanese atrocities, including the brutal massacre of 150 American war prisoners in the Philippines was cited by the state department today in an indictment of Japan's failure to observe the Geneva convention.

The department disclosed it made approximately 240 protests on the war crimes which ranged from mistreatment among war prisoners to the denial of inspection of war prisoner camps and lack of medical attention to war prisoners.

Government Responsible

A note on the "barbaric" treatment of enemy troops in the slaughter of the 150 Americans reminded the Japanese government that it could not escape responsibility for the crime and demanded that "appropriate punishment" be inflicted on all who directed or participated in it.

The Americans were forced into air raid tunnels at Puerto Princesa on the island of Palawan last December 14 on the pretense of an air raid.

Gasoline was poured into the shelters and touched off with blazing torches. The victims, enveloped in flames and screaming in agony, swarmed out only to be moved down by machine gun fire.

"Every time the city police department makes an arrest for speeding the charge is made that the city needs the money," Haven stated. "Arrests are not made for commercial purposes, therefore I intend to let such cases go to the aldermen," Haven stated.

Will Haul Water To Avella District

AVELLA, Pa., Sept. 5.—(INS)—The Avella Water company today planned to use railroad cars to bring water to this drought-stricken town.

The reservoir of Avella, a town of 2500, proved inadequate when the north branch of Cross creek in Washington county went dry.

Meanwhile residents used all kinds of contrivances—including two wheelers and baby carriages—to carry water to their homes.

DRIVER TELLS OF FATAL ACCIDENT

Dominick Mazzocco Says Youthful Cyclist Drove Directly In Front Of Truck

According to the explanation offered by Dominick Mazzocco of R. D. 2, driver of the truck which struck and fatally injured Donald DeMarco, aged 12 years, of 728 Oak street, Tuesday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock, on Butler avenue, the young cyclist drove directly in front of his truck and he was unable to avoid striking him.

Mazzocco, who was driving a truck owned by Paul Wimmer of the Free Mill road, was traveling west on Butler avenue and had just rounded the bend at Ray street. He states that young DeMarco was coming east on Butler avenue, and when he neared Forest street, suddenly turned and looked over his shoulder to the rear. He seemed unaware of Mazzocco's truck, and swerved suddenly to turn into Forest street, driving directly in front of the truck. Mazzocco told Chief of Police Hanna and Corporal T. P. Nugent that he was powerless to avoid hitting him.

Taken To Hospital

The badly injured youth was taken to the New Castle hospital by Christopher Connor of 501 Chestnut street, where young DeMarco died about ten minutes after admission. He had sustained a fractured skull.

Donald was born in New Castle July 4, 1933, son of Joseph and Teresa Lattuada DeMarco. He was a student in the sixth grade of Oak street school, where he had many schoolmates, who are sorry to hear of his untimely death. Donald was a faithful member of St. Vitus church.

Surviving are his parents and the following brothers and sisters: Sgt. Charles DeMarco, Manila; Dorothy, Frank, Cpl. James DeMarco of California; Cpl. Paul DeMarco, Reims, France; Josephine and Rose.

The body is at the DeCabo funeral home, East Linton street, and will be taken to the residence late this afternoon.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending the arrival of his brother and will be announced tomorrow.

bayoneted. Many were buried alive. The massacre was first disclosed early this year by prisoners who escaped the murder party.

Only Part of Protest

The department explained that today's 15,000 word summary of protests to the Japanese was only a part of those which had been made during the war. For the most part, the department explained, the protests had not been made public in the hope that arrangements could be made for the proper treatment of war prisoners and civilian internees held by the Japs.

Revelation of the many atrocities, naming many Japanese war criminals, was expected to result in a determined effort by war criminals to escape into hiding before they can be captured for trial.

Airman Decapitated

One note protested the decapitation of an American airman who was captured in New Guinea on March 23, 1944.

The airman had been forced down at sea near Aitape, New Guinea. The Japs captured him early in the morning of March 23. They bound his hands and beat him with sticks from that morning until mid afternoon on the following day. When a civilian named Boumy decapitated him with six clumsy saber strokes to the cheers of the Japanese troops.

Another note dated March 10, 1945, protested the treatment of American war prisoners who were on a ship torpedoed off Mindanao while being removed from the Philippines to other prison camps.

On Prison Ships

The notes also protested the treatment of 650 prisoners held at Lasaga airfield in the Philippines, a known military installation on which they were forced to work.

The protest on the treatment of prisoners on the torpedoed Jap prison ship related how the men were crowded into holes where they could not lie down, with air cut off and insufficient drinking water provided. It asserted that the Japs failed to provide safety equipment, and recited that after the vessel was torpedoed Lieut. Hosimoto ordered prisoners swimming in the sea to be fired upon and had his men throw grenades on those trapped in the holes.

Thrown Into Sea

Twenty-nine prisoners who were recaptured from the sea later were shot and thrown back.

A further protest, dated April 6, 1945, charged the Japanese authorities with the murder of four American citizens who had been interned in the Santa Tomas internment camp in Manila. They were named as Carroll Calkins, Grinnell, Alfred Francis Dugleby, Ernest Emil Johnson and Clifford Lawrence Larson.

the senate finance and house ways and means committees. Some members declared it would block reconversion rather than aid it.

Draft And Pearl Harbor

The biggest early session fights may fall outside of reconversion legislation on the draft and Pearl Harbor.

Sen. Thomas (D) Utah chairman of the senate military affairs committee planned to introduce a bill authorizing a two-year draft as recommended by the president but making the age limits 20 through 25 and placing emphasis upon obtaining volunteers for armies of occupation.

Meantime the house military committee snuffed moves to end the draft. It instead proposed that an effort be made to fill armies of occupation with volunteers meaning continuing the present draft.

Sen. Ferguson (R) Mich. as well as others planned to introduce resolutions calling for a full investigation of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

emperor with bringing peace to the world but also said that even at the very beginning of the war Hirohito's mind, "as deep and broad as the ocean," was always turned to the question of how to secure peace to the world.

In the same trend, the premier later said:

"There is little use of going back to the past, trying to put the blame upon one person or another.

"We should rather reflect calmly upon our own conduct, each and everyone of us, whether on the front or at home, whether in or out of the government.

"A general repentance is demanded of the whole nation."

The premier's so-called "explanation" of Japan's defeat comprised merely a review of the war including Nippon's lessening fortunes after the "withdrawal" of Jap forces from Guadalcanal.

Higashi-Kuni offered no criticism of Japan's conduct of the war but stressed the preponderance of allied air might as the main factor in destroying his nation's shipping, rail transportation, military production and raw material source.

GEN. MacARTHUR MAY SOON ENTER CITY OF TOKYO

Southern end of home island of Kyushu by big C-57 transport plane was unofficially reported under way to be followed by landing of seaborne forces at Kagoshima Bay.

Indicating the rapidly, Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the Eighth Army, estimated that 400,000 U. S. troops will be on Japan's home soil within five weeks.

Eichelberger, who is in charge of occupation forces in the Tokyo-Yokohama sector, conferred today with Japanese Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama.

Will Carry Out Orders

He described him as a "punctilious old soldier with a distinguished record" and said the high Jap officer had given every assurance that MacArthur's orders for disarming Jap troops on the islands of Honshu and Hokkaido would be carried out.

The field marshal was given detailed instructions to pass on to his subordinates who will meet tomorrow to work out the disarming plans.

Eichelberger admitted that a genuine task lies ahead because of the generalization of Japanese life and destruction of transport and communication facilities.

In the initial phase of the occupation first priority was given to evacuation of Allied prisoners of war. Hundreds more of the liberated captives poured through Tokyo and Yokohama today, deliciously happy over their release but carrying new stories of atrocities by prison guards.

Some of the perpetrators of the cruelties suffered in the prison camps may escape punishment, by reason of the speed of the evacuation of the prisoners, who are scattering to Manila and the states.

Most of the Japanese war criminals, however, will be brought before the bar of Allied justice.

Eichelberger disclosed that agents of the war crimes commission are expertly compiling war guilt evidence and that courts martial may be held soon. Death sentences will be carried out only on approval of MacArthur.

ASKS SENSIBLE U. S. POLICY ON EMPLOYMENT

Gen. Bradley Says Returning Veterans Should Get Recognition In Employment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Gen. Omar Bradley, chief of the veterans bureau, asked leaders of labor unions and veterans organizations today to work out "sensible" employment policy to avoid war between civilian workers and returning vets.

"Returning soldiers, sailors and marines should have some sort of recognition, some type of authority for length of service," Gen. Bradley said, "otherwise it would be difficult to show justice—and hard for them to get jobs."

Bradley, known as the "good Geyser," as he led victorious American armies from D-Day to V-Day in Europe, made these statements in his first interview since taking over his new job. He emphasized that he was deeply concerned over the problem of getting the veterans against the war workers by establishing overly stiff policies.

America will have a grand total of upwards of twenty million ex-servicemen, Bradley pointed out, including veterans of the first World War.

that was keeping the veterans administration working overtime at present is "the high percentage of disability claims." Those turned down take longer than those accepted, he said, because he insists that every one of the vetes being thoroughly checked and double-checked.

Man Had Brick In His Stomach For 10 Years

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terrible constipated. Recently he started taking ERB-HELP and now the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

Salesmen In Postwar Era

The role that the salesmen will play in the reconversion period and in the peacetime era offers much room for speculation. Already the subject has projected a sizable controversy. Some days ago, Price Administrator Chester Bowles said it isn't going to take any high-priced salesmen to get new washers, ironers and other electrical appliances into the hands of the public when the potential consumers know they are in stock.

This statement brought prompt disagreement from Charles G. Pyle, managing director of the National Electrical Wholesalers' Association.

Mr. Bowles obviously was thinking of the backlog of consumer demand for products which have not been manufactured for several years. Mr. Pyle was thinking of the competition between manufacturers and of the vast number of salesmen in peacetime. Mr. Pyle said 7,000,000 salesmen were employed in United States industries before the war, and that this number was reduced to 4,000,000 before the close of the conflict.

According to present estimates, said Mr. Pyle, 10,000,000 salesmen will be required in the peace years ahead.

"Without the sort of build-up demand which astute salesmen can generate," Mr. Pyle continued, "there will be little chance of long-sustained full employment which all officials of the government and industry are anxious to see achieved."

"Yes, as one of America's well and favorably known advertising executives before you undertook your present post, are unquestionably familiar with the ever present factor of competition. With the consumer being confronted with a variety of appliance lines, I am sure you will agree from experience that selling determines in most instances which lines will be selected."

Mr. Bowles must know that there are differences in products even when those products are scarce, and that each manufacturer wants his share or of possible sales. And when goods are plentiful in an economy of free enterprise, the salesman certainly plays an important role, not only in boosting the wares of the manufacturer or dealer who employs him, but in creating demand for the product he is selling.

Detroit Is Hopeful

Even before V-E Day Americans began to hear dire warnings of what might happen in such war production centers as Detroit when the fighting ended. These warnings increased in volume when Germany surrendered. They rose in pitch as the possibility of a Japanese collapse loomed larger. They are still being repeated, loudly and shrilly, now that the war has been won.

These dire warnings were inspired in part by the leftists who want to see the American economic system supplanted by the Russian system, and in part by loyal Americans who based their fear on the constant parade of strikes in Detroit during the war.

But so far, at least in Detroit, nothing has happened in Detroit to bear out the prophets who predicted unrest, disorder and even riots when the war's end brought canceled contracts and temporary unemployment. The contracts have been canceled and men have been thrown out of work—it is estimated that there are 200,000 unemployed persons in Detroit, a probably exaggerated figure—but the city is calm and apparently in an optimistic mood at the moment.

It is noteworthy that Detroit's hotels, bars, stores and restaurants are apparently as crowded as ever by people who look prosperous and are not afraid to spend money. But there are also statistics to indicate that Detroiters, even those without work, are not worried. For example, only 126,000 applications for unemployment insurance have been filed this year, and 36,000 of these antedate the Japanese surrender. Families on the relief rolls total 3,955, compared to 63,000 families on relief during the depression.

There are reasons for confidence. Detroiters are reported to have more than half of the $3,600,000,000 in savings held by the people of Michigan. Moreover, temporary residents of the city who came to get war jobs are moving out rapidly and the exodus helps to relieve the fear of those who are staying. The reconversion job rapidly is being mastered by the automobile industry and, barring strikes, the factories will be turning out cars at the prewar rate in four months. Detroit is relaxed and hopeful.

The Next War Maker

The war just ended was begun by three nations which today are being punished in defeat. Commonly it is believed that two of them—Germany and Japan—will make war again in about twenty-five years if not kept disarmed. Little thought is given to the possibility that the next war-making nation may be a country which is now on friendly terms with all the victorious powers.

Two of the defeated countries in this war—Japan and Italy—were allied with the United States and the Allied powers in World War I. Both professed bitter hatred of German militarism and the Junkers' bid for world power. Both fought to stop Germany's attempt to steal territory. Yet by 1931, Japan was stealing Manchuria from China and by 1935 Italy was stealing Ethiopia. And less than a quarter of a century after World War I, both were fighting alongside Germany in a savage attempt to steal land and enslave peoples.

No world peace league can protect a country from its own ambitious leaders. No international police force can suppress a Hitler or a Mussolini until he threatens war. And by a surprise attack with weapons and methods which are unknown to other countries, he may do great harm to countries which have abandoned their defenses in the fancied security of a world police force. Only the eternal vigilance of all peace-loving countries will choke the ambitions of tomorrow's Napoleons.

School Still Comes First

One of the common mistakes made by young people during and after the last war was to leave school in order to snap up the "easy money."

A host of youths, 1,500,000, according to War Manpower Commissioner McNutt, are falling for the same line of reasoning today.

It is pretty hard to tell these youngsters that they will be making a serious mistake if they do not return to school now that the emergency is over.

Ten years from now, if they don't change their minds sooner, they will see their error. Similar victims of a "good thing" after the last war are everywhere around us; men who might have gone far in engineering, the professions or many other walks of life, if only their practical knowledge and experience had been fully grounded in the theory and discipline of a thoroughgoing scholastic training.

The fall school term is starting. Young men and women now working who have not finished their educations should get back to their books at once.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Congress Is Back; Facing New World

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Congress is coming back to a new world. Six weeks ago, house and senate recessed for what the members hoped would be a restful vacation. In that interval, great black headlines marched across the press heralding changes so overwhelming that no man can see the end.

The first atomic bomb was dropped a month ago. That date of August 6 is the dividing line between the old world and the new. In view of the gravity of the decisions to be taken, President Truman apparently felt he had to wait for congress before acting on the future of atomic power. Anyhow, no action has been taken.

Sole Possessor of Secret
The United States is still the sole possessor of the secret of how the bomb was made. Each day that that is true increases by so much the mortal peril to the human race. Each day that goes by makes it more likely that atomic fission will become a matter of competition for future wars.

Scientists connected with the project have made it unmistakably clear that, with our present technical and industrial knowledge, a bomb of sufficient size could be constructed to destroy the atmosphere of the earth. In other words, one explosion could wipe out every man, woman and child living and breathing today. The bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki were small.

Consider, for a moment, the reaction of our allies in this war to the bomb. Take Russia first.

The Russians were told at Potsdam that we had a powerful new weapon which we proposed to lose against Japan if the surrender ultimatum failed. We did not tell them what it was.

Russian Reaction
Two days after the bomb fell, the newspaper Pravda carried a small story on page three to the effect that the United States had used a new weapon against Japan. That was all.

The use of the bomb, with all that it meant in concentrated research and technology, coincided more or less with another event. The Russians observed in June the jubilee 25th anniversary of their academy of sciences. To celebrate this event, they invited leading scientists from all over the world.

It was an occasion of great national pride. Soviet Russia's very advanced science was displayed for British, French and American visitors. While some of those visitors were still in Russia, the atomic bomb fell on Hiroshima. It seemed to dwarf the Russian achievement. American physicists returned from Moscow saying it will be a matter of only two to five years before Russia can also produce an atomic bomb, since they have the essential scientific background.

Significant Item
One other item is significant. The New York Times reported from Paris that an atomic expert discovered in Yugoslavia was flown by special plane to Moscow. And the rest, as Hamlet said, is silence.

In England, parliament met not long after the Hiroshima bomb to debate and ratify the United Nations charter. That debate was dominated by the atomic bomb, with a great many members suggesting that the new league had been blown sky high along with Hiroshima.

The following question put by a Labor member to the government gives the tone of the discussion: "Are you aware of the statement that the United States proposes to retain exclusive possession of this secret; and do you realize that exclusive knowledge and exclusive use in the sole direction of one power is an overwhelming destructive force of this kind would make nonsense of the whole conception of collective security?"

Prime Minister Attlee announced the appointment of a committee of high government officials and distinguished scientists to advise the government on atomic power. As reported in the London Daily Telegraph will deal with the international treatment of atomic power and its further development in this country, whether for industrial or military purposes.

The next move, if any, must come from us. The choice we faced on August 6 is the same choice. It is death and destruction, or life and world unity. But the odds lengthen each day against what Bert L. Taylor in the old Chicago Tribune always referred to as the so-called human race.

What People Say

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON—Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwellenbach: "It is well enough for physical scientists to concentrate on splitting the atom. It ill behooves social scientists to ignore problems which can split apart our democratic society."
LONDON—Prime Minister Clement Attlee: "We must take our share in establishing conditions in Europe which allow reconstruction without violence."
PARIS—Senator Claude Pepper, of Florida: "Germany should be dismembered to a nation the size of England, France or Poland to decrease her future danger to Europe and the world."

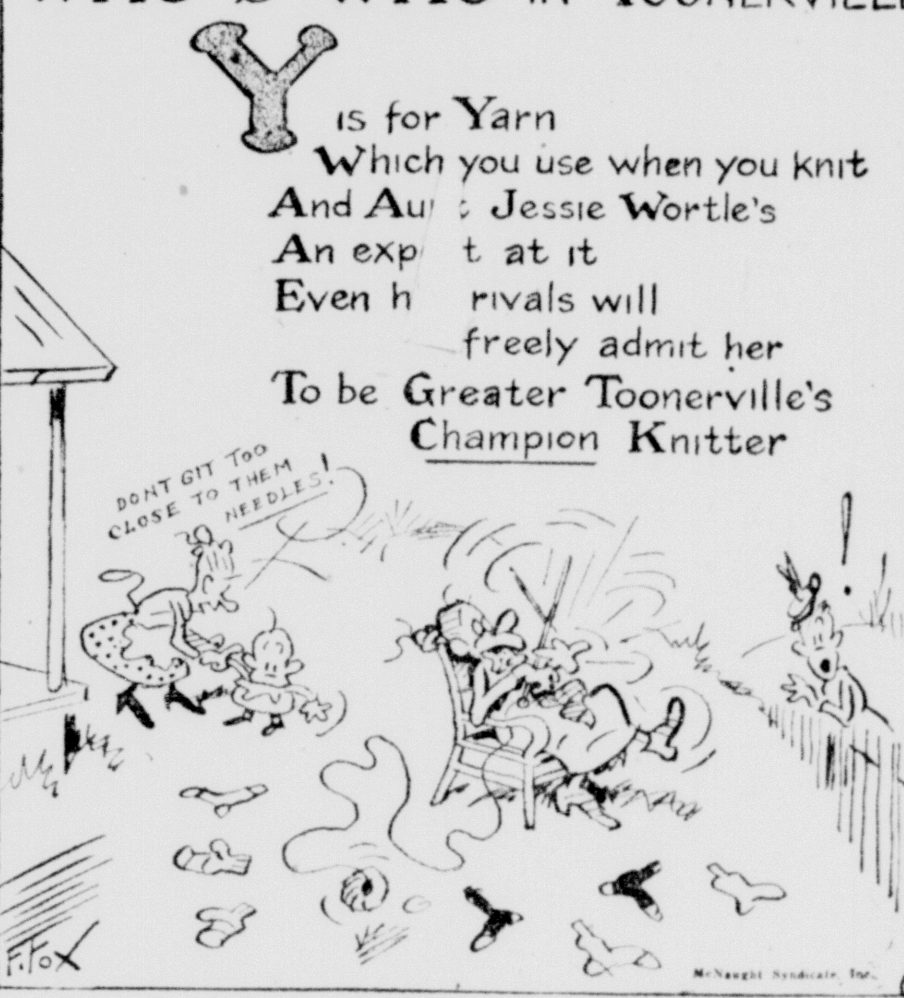

PEORIA—Secretary of the Treasury Fred Vinson: "The workers of this country must have not only high wages but also economic security. The workers must have assistance during periods of unemployment and must have protection against prolonged unemployment."

If you think the war may read this: "Radio manufacturers predict there will be three and a half million new receiving sets on the market by Jan. 1."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:20. Sun rises tomorrow 6:38.

All work and no play makes work for the nerve specialists.

There is an important distinction between free speech and cheap talk.

A good speech like a woman's skirt should be long enough to cover the subject and short enough to create interest.

If speeders knew they were driving to jail they wouldn't be in such a hurry.

A good sport is one who will always let you have your own way.

MONKEY VIEW POINT

Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree, discussing things as they said to be. Said one to the other, "Now listen, you two, there's a certain rumor that can't be true—that man descended from our noble race. The very idea! It's a bare disgrace. No monkey ever descended his wife started her baby and ruined her life. And you're never known a mother monkey to leave the babies with others to bunk or pass them to one from another. Till they scarcely know who is their mother. And another thing: You'll never see a monkey build a fence round a coconut tree and let the coconuts go to waste forbidding all other monkeys a taste. Why, if I put a fence around this tree, starvation would force you to steal from me. Here's another thing a monkey won't do. Go out at night and get on a stew, or use a gun, or club or knife to take some other monkey's life. Yes, man descended, the monkey curse, but brothers, he didn't descend from us."

No man favors any form of taxes that increases his.

Much money wasted on funerals would do much good among the living.

The time to be careful is when things are coming your way.

My father's 70 years old and has got every one of his teeth a business man observed to a table companion at the luncheon club.

"My uncle is 75 and he never has used glasses," said the companion. "Not at all. He always drinks from the bottle."

Most of us uphold truths that benefit us, but are silent about truths that don't.

Happiness for yourself cannot be gained by taking it away from others.

Divorce rarely comes to the husband who tells his wife she is just as good a cook as his mother was.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

DRAWBACKS OF MODERN SPELLING

If you are reading the letters written to newspapers, you must observe frequent complaints by parents that the modern school is not training children to master essential skills and facts with precision. Thousands of parents have believed this for years but they usually were too timid to speak up for, when they did complain to the school authorities, they were so overwhelmed with high-sounding phrases about the marvels of "Progressive Education" they meekly sank to silence.

It took this war to give parents enough courage to take a stand. It happened this way. Officers of the armed forces responsible for the induction and early training of recruits have been expressing their amazement at how few facts, the average youth who has "gone through our modern school" has even mastered. His woeful lack is first apparent when he attempts to fill out a few blanks. Before he gets far in training, he reveals his ignorance of simple facts in U. S. history, elementary science, geography and his want of mastery of the simple, basic skill in mathematics (even plain arithmetic).

Widely Publicized
Thanks to such observations publicized widely, some educators are growing a bit more ready to reconsider. At least it is more respectable for the layman to raise questions about the ways of the modern school. Even many writers and editors who don't consider themselves expert in matters of educational philosophy and method, are now expressing what they long believed but failed to say. From now on the rank and file of parents are going to insist that their children shall know more over at school and master more.

Those who have read this column for ten or more years and my numerous articles published in various psychological and educational journals since about 1918 know that I have consistently pleaded for training children in school in habits of precision, that I have warned against stop-watch teaching, have deplored the decline in effective drill in the elementary school (which was displaced by incidental learning so widely popularized by "Progressive Education"), and have pleaded for returning of bonus and selective rote learning in respect to basic facts, symbols and skills.

I wrote these things and said them from the platform when it was not respectable, certainly not popular to do so. In certain educational circles I lost caste as a result.

But the revolution against uniting and hazy-un-war learning in the classroom has been so rapid that I soon may find myself defending some of the items of "Progressive Education." In spite of its damage to mental habits of mastery and precision, its emphasis on the child as an individual person deserving to be understood, its contribution to better parent-teacher relationships, and to better mental health in the classroom, cooperative and creative learning are, I believe, among its permanent achievements.

Tokyo's most influential daily told the story: "We may lose a battle now, but we shall come back in victory."

"Trusting the people would have worked better than rationing." Radio Oh, yeah! What about those not buying canned goods by the case?

Oh, happy day, when the GI will never again smell egg powder or gun powder or any powder except the kind that goes on gals.

Those Jap commanders who act as though they don't know the war is over probably also haven't heard of a little gadget called the atom bomb.

KEEPING CONVERSATION GOING

"How does a hostess keep conversation going with a group of guests who do not play bridge? I find it very difficult, especially when they are of different mental types."

Answer: It is always a hostess' responsibility to keep conversation flowing without any embarrassing silences. I cannot give you any set formula, for topics crop up accidentally. Probably the easiest starter of conversation is to ask if anyone has seen a certain movie and to follow with queries as to opinions on the actors featured in it.

If some guest picks up a book from a table and asks who is reading it, reply that you are and that it is interesting or not, as the case may be. Never go into detail about plots but you may give a cursory account of their salient points. That will break the ice and another guest will probably find a similarity between the movie or story in question and one which she has recently seen or read. This conversation device.

All of us have some experience or some anecdote to contribute. But it is the hostess' duty to keep the conversation from dying out. When there is a lull, she must come to the rescue. It isn't as difficult as it sounds, for one subject just naturally leads to another.

Question: Where should the knife be put at one's place at table between periods of cutting the meat? When the meal is finished, where should the knife and fork rest?

Answer: When not in use, the knife should be placed on the edge of the plate, with the handle toward the right. When the meal is finished, the knife and fork should both be placed with the handles toward the right side of the plate.

Present your problem to Miss Marfis who will mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

President's Manner Irks Washingtonians
Some Don't Like Breezy Manner Of Truman
Jobs Goal Now Set At Fifty Four Millions

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—President Truman's sometimes breezy way of running the executive office has caused apprehension among those who have followed government affairs over a long period. Mr. Truman upsets these observers occasionally by minor deviations from accepted practices.

For instance, he frequently has given the press the name of a man he has selected for a post, before sending the nomination to Congress. This was true in the appointment of Jimmy Byrnes as secretary of state.

There is concern that on one of these occasions, Mr. Truman might stub the presidential toe if Congress really indignant.

Mr. Truman also has commented extemporaneously on debatable questions—a practice that can lead to serious consequences. Once he caused somewhat of a furor when he said the United States has no territorial ambitions. He forgot that this might be interpreted to mean the government did not want that Pacific base which it acquired during the war.

Liberty Hard To Take
Shortly after the new federal wage policy was announced, WLB Chairman George Taylor had a visit from an employer who wanted to know what he had to do to give his workers a raise.

"Pay it, if it doesn't affect prices," Taylor said.

"But what forms do I have to file?" the employer asked. "What information do I have to submit to WLB?"

"None at all," Taylor smiled. "Mainly," said the employer, jubilantly, "liberty is hard to take."

On the treasury department books a strange item is carried over from month to month and year to year. It is listed thus:

Unknown, destroyed—$1,000,000.

This sum the Treasury explains, represents currency destroyed in the great Chicago fire of 1871.

Independence For India
The clamor for a labor goal of 30 million peace-time jobs is falling on deaf ears in government manpower circles these days.

Political observers say that their rights are being on 34 million jobs, which they think can be achieved if the reconversion program works out all right.

They point out that the military will require some three million men for occupation purposes in Japan and Germany.

In addition, they estimate a "national" unemployment of two and one-half million. Furthermore, they figure that the present expanded labor force of upwards of 60 million will be depleted rapidly by withdrawal of thousands of women older men and young people.

On the basis of their calculations, they will have the job goal at about 34 million.

But they hasten to point out that before full employment is reached, some five million will be temporarily unemployed by Thanksgiving and eight million by spring.

They are frank to concede, however, that their estimate can be met by industry's ability to absorb unemployed workers for peacetime production.

In their books, the 34 million jobs are a realistic achievement goal. The 60 million can be worked out later.

Several prominent industrialists in India who are in the United States served to confuse some diplomatic observers who have received by reports on the actual sentiment of the rank and file in India on the question of independence.

At least some industrialists, in private conversation, surprised listeners by saying that, despite their monetary stake in India, they hoped for immediate independence and expected it reasonably soon from the labor government in London.

They admitted that civil war might come. However, they indicated that if it did, it was their business and the business of nobody else.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FELLOWSHIP

I saw them as I passed along. Entranced by just a bit of song. Rich man and toiler! Round about the pennies and the flags were out. And there they stood, a silent pair. Held by a burst of music rare!

Now life was poor and one was rich. Forgotten, though, was which was which. Forgotten, too, were time and place. Fortune and lack, and creed and race. Just two men, done with right and wrong. Enraptured by a cardinal's song.

Beauty and mirth do this to men. Bring them to fellowship again. Take them from all the shams of pride. And stand them, brothers, side by side. Lift them from self, give high and low. A common source of joy to know.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

The Japanese military attack in Stockholm, Sweden, suggested that now, with the war over, we should shake hands with Japan just as you do "after a tennis match."

Laughingly he defined war as "a sporting event mingled with heroism."

And, when the head of the Japanese delegation to Manila alighted from his plane, he attempted to shake hands with an American colonel. Another one of the Japanese delegates carried a bouquet of flowers for General MacArthur as a gesture of peace and good will.

What are you going to do with a people like that?

War, a sporting event, indeed!

I suppose to the Japanese all the unspeakable cruelties they committed on our men are just little incidents in

Local Girls Home From Connecticut

Tobacco Farmerettes Back After Spending Profitable Summer In Connecticut

FIFTY FIVE IN RETURNING GROUP

Fifty-five girls from New Castle, who have spent the summer working in the tobacco fields of Connecticut have returned home after having spent a profitable and useful summer as "tobacco farmerettes". They left Hartford Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock on a special train, arriving late Saturday morning.

The girls left here early in June and were under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Morrow of Highland avenue, teacher in the local schools. Assisting her were Miss Helen Wilson, school nurse; Miss Laura Cowmeadow, who was in charge of recreation; and Mrs. Paul Hoeland, who had charge of the meals.

Assisting as field supervisors were Misses Martha Hanna, Tillie Solomon, Netta Mann and Reba Love. The cooks, who also accompanied the girls, were Miss Sallie Sch. Miss Mary Hanna and Miss Dolores Schobloch.

Honors Given

Two New Castle girls took honors as the best campers, Miss Gladys Paul receiving a $25 war bond and Miss Peggie Paul $10 in war stamps which were given by the growers.

A week ago Saturday, the girls were entertained at a field day, held at Camp Colt, Hartford, Conn., which was topped off by a picnic dinner.

There were originally 63 in the group from New Castle being joined by other groups from the vicinity of Uniontown and Indiana, Pa.

The work project was under the auspices of the agricultural extension department of the University of Connecticut in cooperation with the Emergency Farm Labor Office here.

Daily Routine

The girls were awakened each morning at 6 o'clock, either by an alarm clock or by force, and at 6:30 were served a warm breakfast. The period after breakfast until 7:15 o'clock was spent in cleaning cabins, at which time the work trucks arrived to take them to their daily chores in the tobacco sheds. Lunches were carried when the girls were too far from camp to allow a return trip. At 4:30 o'clock the trucks arrived to take them back to camp.

Dinner was served at 6 o'clock, but the intervening time was spent in reading mail from home, and swimming. After the dinner dishes were cleared away, the girls spent the hours in various pleasurable pursuits, some in writing letters, others in swimming and boating, or dancing to music from the radio, juke box or phonograph.

Monday night was stunt night, when everyone performed, even the counselors. Tuesday night, buses took the campers to Lake Congamond for an evening of roller skating. Two nights, instead of going to Babbs Beach, the girls went to Riverside amusement park. Youth canteen was held on Friday nights at Southwick, Mass., which is similar to Swing Lobby here at home. Saturday night the girls went to Westfield, Mass., for a shopping trip or attended a movie. Sundays the girls were taken in buses to Westfield, Mass., where they attended the churches of their choice, and then spent the afternoon in swimming or rowing in Lake Congamond.

The girls spent their days in varied tasks according to their desires. Some laid the leaves on the tables for the sewers, while others carried the leaves which were sewn on laths to the hangers for drying. Most of the girls were enthusiastic about the summer they spent so profitably in Connecticut and are planning to return next summer.

Japanese Prisoners Are Gaining Weight, Learn Gum Chewing

MANILA, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Capt. Elmer Johnson, Aurora, Ill., chief of guards at New Bilibid prison, said today that Jap prisoners are getting fat on American food and that many already have learned how to chew gum.

"You couldn't force one to escape," Johnson said. "They're perfectly satisfied. But the Jap generals can't seem to realize that they are prisoners of war."

Gum-chewing Jap civilian prisoners are acting as orderlies for Nip generals and admirals.

One gum-chewer entered the cell of Gen. Mamoru Hiras, Johnson said, and the general screamed that his orderly was becoming "too American." He slapped the civilian's face and made him spit out the gum.

The Jap civilian complained to Johnson, who told him: "Next time that general hits you, sock him back."

The civilian said, admiringly: "I wish I were an American."

JAP BATTLE SONG

MIAMI, Fla.—(INS)—The Japs have a new battle song—"Deep in the Heart of Texas." Cpl. Taylor D. Jones, a 23-year-old army air forces clerk who recent returned from the South Pacific, told of hearing a group of more than 300 "slightly-sleazy" Japs singing the song on Leyte Island.

War Research Of Scientists Adds To American Life

Cambridge Laboratory Called Largest Research Organization In History

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 5.—Peace-time application of radar, so vital in contributing to the defeat of Germany and Japan, is certain to prove a great blessing to the American people in the immediate future.

For example, it's going to be possible for us to take off in a commercial airplane from any airport in any city in the United States and land—without fail—at any given airport anywhere else in the country no matter how bad the weather may be because radar will "bring the plane in" safely to its destination.

And Ships At Sea

It's going to be possible, too, to use radar to make travel at sea safer. Radar will be the "eyes" which will enable navigators of ships at sea to determine their exact latitude and longitude, to avoid storm centers anywhere along their route and, moreover, will enable them to enter dry dock at the most dangerous harbor even in the densest fog.

All this—and more that radar will be able to do—is a tribute to America's scientists, of whom too little is known because in the past five years they have been working in an atmosphere of secrecy which was necessary because of the war.

The two largest scientific projects of the war—radar and the atomic bomb—enlisted 30 to 40 per cent of the physicists of the nation. Of all the research centers and scientific establishments involved in the two projects, the largest was the radiation laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., whose mushroom growth from 1940 to the end of the war brought it more than 700 physicists, or three-fourths of the total number working on both projects. It has been described as "the largest research organization in the history of the world."

It was extremely fortunate that Dr. Lee Alvin DuBridge, professor of physics and dean of the faculty of arts and science at the University of Rochester, New York, was chosen to be director of the radiation laboratory, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. DuBridge's tremendous energy, his keen vision and unfailing willingness to be consulted at any time inspired loyalty and respect and a quick and sincere cooperation that brought tremendous results.

His scientists—"combat scientists"—1,000 of them—wore dark, hooded uniforms when they went overseas to install equipment that enabled American and British armies to give Germany a shelling from the air. They performed similar service in the Pacific playing an important role in the downfall of the Japs.

The scientists at radiation laboratory, including Dr. DuBridge, are a fine aggregation of men who more or less anonymously have done a great job for their country in the war and have paved the way for future peace-time accomplishments.

DR. JOHN R. SPICER

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 5.—Appointment of Dr. John R. Spicer, formerly of Alfred university, Alfred, N. Y., to the position of dean of men at Westminster college, was announced today by Dr. Robert E. Colburn, president.

For several years he was in charge of Freshman English at Alfred but in 1936 he became counselor to prospective students and executive secretary of the Alumni Association.

In 1940-41 the family spent a year in New York. During that and the first half of the following college year, Spicer did the resident work for the Ed. D. degree that was awarded at Columbia's commencement this spring.

Dr. Spicer has assumed his duties. He is married and the father of four children.

Dr. John Orr, who has been acting dean, will devote his full time to teaching Bible and philosophy.

What is called the "bloodiest day in American history" occurred in the Civil War during the Battle of Antietam. There were more men killed on Sept. 7, 1862, than in any one day during World War I. The losses on the federal side during this battle were about 12,500 killed, wounded and missing, and on the Confederate side about 11,000.

'School Boy' Vets Will Get Credit

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Plans for crediting "school boy" veterans for military training and experience when awarding high school diplomas were started today by the department of public instruction, to become effective within "two weeks."

Superintendent Francis B. Haas said local school officials and organizations would sift the records of youthful World War II veterans returning to classrooms to determine credits. The "experience rating" system should be underway in all public schools within two weeks, he added.

"The purpose of the program is to enable former service men to submit all the evidence they have concerning their training so that we can give them extra credit which will help them to make up for time lost while serving with the armed forces," Haas explained.

Union High Has 462 Enrolled In Classes At Start

After two days of school, Union township's junior-senior high school shows an increase of seven pupils over last year, bringing the total enrollment to 462, according to Milton A. Pattison, principal.

No discharged veterans are included in the total, although about half a dozen students have returned to the classroom from jobs which they have been holding for the past several months or more.

Contrary to the increase throughout the school as a whole, the senior class this year has only 62 members, as compared to 74 last year. Twenty-two of the seniors are boys and 40 are girls. The senior group is fairly evenly divided among the academic, commercial and general courses, Mr. Pattison said.

Charge Violation Of Out-Of-Bounds Rule

Angelo Casacchia, operator of The Casino, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by city authorities on a charge of having violated a city ordinance which was adopted after military authorities had declared the place out of bounds, or off limits.

Mr. Casacchia placed bail for a hearing before Mayor John F. Haven tomorrow.

According to the ordinance, an owner, manager or person who serves food or beverages to a person in military service after the place has been declared out of bounds, shall, upon conviction be fined $100, in default of which a jail sentence can be imposed.

The police report of the arrest stated that information to base the arrest was procured by Lieutenant of Police G. S. Kennedy of the local department and Lieut. Baker, a provost marshal of the U. S. Army.

The order placing this and one other place in New Castle out of bounds was issued some time ago by Major General Hayes.

Justice Is First Postwar Problem

Dr. Richard Evans Speaks To Mass Meeting In Behalf Of World Justice For Jews

"The No. 1 postwar problem is justice for the first and worst victims of the aggressors, the remaining remnants of the European Jews who today have no hope for a future life save Palestine," declared Dr. Richard E. Evans of New York City Tuesday night in The Castle hotel. Dr. Evans spoke to a mass meeting under the auspices of the American Committee on Palestine and the Christian Council on Palestine.

"Hither said he would destroy a people," said Dr. Evans, "and he well might succeed. Almost eight million Jews were killed through gas chambers, mass murders, machine gunning and other forms of torture and abuse."

He scored the action of the British government of 1939 in issuing what he termed "the infamous white paper" which abrogated the Balfour declaration of 1917 which opened Palestine to immigration. The United States and the other nations signatory to the mandate opening Palestine were also scored for their failure to demand that the given word of a sovereign nation be kept.

"If we fought the war just ended for justice, then it is high time we saw that justice was done to a people that centuries ago gave justice and freedom to the world," said he.

Dr. Evans is no ordinary speaker. He seems to be a modern version of the old time crusaders who by the very zeal of their pleading battered down the barriers of intolerance and bigotry. No cause can be considered lost as long as men like Dr. Evans are carrying the torch for it.

At 6:30 he addressed a dinner meeting of men in the hotel and at noon addressed the Lions club. He is a former Presbyterian minister in Milwaukee, Wis., but for the past several years has been one of a number of Christian ministers who have been pleading the cause of Zionism in the United States. At the night meeting he was introduced by Rev. Thomas J. Jones of the First Congregational church.

Soldier Not Dead; Woman Finds She Has Two Husbands

Another Marital Tangle As Result Of Mistaken Report First Husband Dead

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Mrs. Pearl I. Keiser, of Williamsport, who was rewed before her soldier husband died, today found out that she had a second husband.

The pretty 29-year-old blonde married Pvt. Hoyt Keiser, 30, of Williamsport, July 30, two months after the War department had notified her of the death of her first husband, Staff Sgt. Earl L. Smith, 30. A son was born to the Smiths in 1938.

"I will annul the second marriage if Earl is alive but I think I should wait until the War department notifies me," she declared. It is Hoyt whom I love. He has treated me well."

Second Marriage Snarled. Mrs. Keiser's second marriage was snarled Friday night when Mrs. William H. Jarrett and George Otto, neighbors heard liberated American prisoners in Japan broadcast over radio Tokyo. One man identified as Staff Sgt. Earl L. Smith spoke briefly and referred to his seven-year-old son, Richard, and a brother, Carl. Smith had been a tail gunner on a B-25 bomber operating from China.

Mrs. Keiser, who had been on a Labor day holiday, did not learn of the broadcast until Tuesday morning when she returned to her modest three-room apartment near the business section of Williamsport.

"What in the world am I to do?" she asked tearfully when told by a reporter of the broadcast. She indicated her preference for her second husband and said Smith had refused a request for a divorce four years ago.

Mrs. Keiser said she had conferred with Leaning County District Attorney Joseph P. Keilner who had advised her that the laws of Pennsylvania required her to annul the second marriage.

After the second marriage was annulled, she added, she planned to divorce Smith "if Hoyt will wait."

Boys' Attempt To Escape Is Futile

Steal Car In Cleveland, Abandon
It. Steal Another; Swim
River, Caught

Two Lorain youths, neither 16, gave city police here an exciting 20 minutes yesterday afternoon but today they were in custody on a charge of larceny of an auto and also receiving stolen goods and are now in the detention home. The charge was made by Chief Hanna before Alderman Mantz.

Here is what occurred:
They confessed, police claim, they stole a car in Cleveland, September 2, and drove it to New Castle yesterday.

They abandoned it and stole the car of Carmela Paulise, South Jefferson street, yesterday afternoon.

The theft was quickly discovered and Sergeant Ribby radioed all cruiser cars. Acting Lieut. Wallace discovered the car with its occupants at North Jefferson and Grant streets.

In attempting to escape, the boys drove the car against the police car and made a wild flight to Locust street. The car upset and the boys fled into "Snake's Rest".

The police in scout cars, alarmed by radio, kept on their trail.
Wallace collared one of the boys
after a long chase near Grant street. The other boy dove into and swam the Shenango river only to land in the hands of Policemen
Welsh and Price.

From the time of the theft until they were in custody was only 20 minutes.

The boys gave the names of George Shaw, Apple street, and Robert Emerick, Second street, both of Lorain.

The auto stolen from Cleveland,
a Buick, was recovered here.

Some Fighting In Burma Yet

(BULLETIN)
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The BBC said today that sporadic fighting continues in Burma.

Quoting reports from Rangoon, the London radio declared that north of Tongoo, the Japanese were still resisting. It added that leaflets were being dropped with pictures showing the arrival in Rangoon of the Japanese general for the surrender parley.

Scattered Japanese forces were reported to have fired on Allied guerrillas on the Sittang river due north of Rangoon.

FCC heard the broadcast.

Meat Stampede Comes To End

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)— Pittsburgh butchers said today the display of choice roasts and steaks had ended the stampede for meat.
They explained the former mob scenes as "psychological"—the customers wanted what they knew was hard to get.

One butcher calmly cut two steaks off a round and remarked:
"Once when I did this, two women fainted in the rush."

No 'Two Job Men' To Be On City Rolls

Mayor John F. Haven intimated today that city employees who hold another job will be asked to resign the extra job so that persons who may be out of work may be able to procure a means of livelihood.

"This was a rule before the war," the mayor stated. Some other third class cities in Pennsylvania have adopted such a rule.

Army Recruiting To Be Speeded Up

Details Of New Recruitment Program Revealed; Seek Three-Year Enlistments

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—
Details were revealed today of the army's new recruitment program, an "all out campaign" to sell the army as a career to eligible young Americans, both civilians and those now in uniform.

According to Brig. Gen. Harold N. Gilbert, director of military personnel procurement service, the new campaign is designed to build up a force of soldiers as a means of speeding the demobilization of selective personnel.

The army is seeking enlistments and re-enlistments for a period of three years. The nine service commands in the United States have been given tentative enlistment and re-enlistment quotas of 70,000 men each. Overseas theatres each have been given quotas tentatively set at 20 per cent of the enlisted personnel now on duty there. These quotas are to be reached as rapidly as possible, and before July 1, 1946.

Recruiting offices will be set up in 600 locations throughout the United States. Approximately 1,800 officers, 6,000 enlisted men and 2,400 civilian employees will be assigned

Gloria Swanson Wants Her Fifth Husband To Pay

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)— Actress Gloria Swanson, who is suing her fifth husband, millionaire William N. Davey, for separate maintenance, today had delivered a scathing reply to his countersuit for annulment.

She described the scion of the original Fisher Body Corp. fortune as an idler and night clubber who never let wartime shortages interfere with his love of luxury, lived on his 80-foot yacht and spent $3,000 a month.

Gloria on the other hand, she said, has no money of her own and has to borrow in order to support herself.
She is seeking $32,000 a year and $25,000 legal fees.

Trackless trolleys, widely used in Germany for years and in 50 cities here, are to be improved. Except for two inconspicuous antennae to make contact with an almost invisible power wire, a new trackless trolley coach has been designed which looks like an ultra-modern bus.

Miss Fisher Makes First Appearance Here Since Debut

Homecoming Concert Is Scheduled For New Castle Artist On September 13

Miss Adrian Fisher's piano recital on September 13 at the Cathedral will be her first local appearance since her formal debut to the musical world at Town Hall in New York last April. It will be somewhat of a homecoming for her, and the first opportunity in several years for her many local friends to hear her.

From the time she started her musical education here until her graduation from New Castle High school in 1936, she gave freely of her talent. In school affairs, in musical circles, before service clubs and other groups she frequently played and her exceptional talent was recognized early in her career. Still unassuming and appreciative of her early training here, she is using her talent to promote a useful civic improvement, since the net proceeds will be given to the building fund of the YMCA Colored Center.

Miss Fisher has studied under several of the finest piano teachers in the world. For five years she was a student of Ernest Hutcheson, one of the greatest contemporary piano teachers. Later she studied with Robert Casadesu, the famous French pianist. Acclaimed by musical critics after her Town Hall debut, she has embarked on a musical career that offers great promise for her future.

Her program here at the Cathedral on September 13 is sponsored by the New Castle Lions club.

War Will Not End Teacher Shortage

State College Official Cites Conditions In Teaching Profession As War Ends

STATE COLLEGE, Sept. 5.—War's end will not end the teacher shortage in Pennsylvania public schools, according to Dr. C. O. Williams, head of teacher placement at the Pennsylvania State college.

"It will be at least another year," Dr. Williams says, "before we can expect an upturn in the supply of teachers. And it probably will be five years before the situation returns to any sort of normalcy."

The return of teachers from war industries and military service will not solve the problem, Dr. Williams reports, because thousands of married and engaged women now teaching are expected to forsake the classroom for the home.

In addition, he points out, the number of college students preparing to teach has been "decidedly below par" for the past four years, while the demand for educational services—not only in the schools, but also in such fields as health, recreation and community activities has been constantly increasing.

Especially hard hit, he claims, are the fields of physical education, industrial education, music, mathematics, science, business education and home economics.

Plight Of World's Jewish Population Told Lions Club

Rev. Richard E. Evans Makes Plea For Tolerance In Treatment Of Displaced Jewry

In an impassioned address before members of the New Castle Lions club at their noon luncheon meeting Tuesday noon in the Castleton, Rev. Richard E. Evans of New York told his audience there could be no just peace without recognition of the plight of the Jews in Europe.

They are a people with no home, no hope and no chance, he stated, unless the democratic nations of the world intervene. A million and a half of these miserable people are hiding out in the swamps and woods of Europe.

Unless England relents and opens the doors in Palestine, which have now been closed to appease the Arabs, their one hope of a haven is closed to them.

Urges Palestine Reopening
Rev. Evans, who is a member of the national executive committee of the Christian Council on Palestine, was here Tuesday to speak in the interests of the work of the council and of the American Committee on Palestine, at a meeting in the Castleton Tuesday night.

He urged that public sentiment be brought to bear on England to reopen the doors into Palestine, where there is plenty of room for both Arab and Jew. In fact, he charged, there are millions of square miles of land which would be available to the Arabs which are not now colonized, on the Arabian peninsula.

Another guest speaker of the club was Rev. Walter J. Kallenbach, blind preacher who is now appearing at the First Baptist church, who spoke in behalf of the blind people of the United States and told the Lions what they could do to help the blind. Rev. Kallenbach, whose home is in Llanerch, Pa., is president of the National Association for the Blind.

Nathaniel F. Parry of West View, a visiting Lion, was also a guest at the luncheon meeting.

SELECTIVE SERVICE CLOSES ON SATURDAY

Pursuant to a federal order placing federal offices on a 40-hour week, local Selective Service offices will work but five eight-hour days, being closed on Saturdays.

The order here was received by Selective Service Boards from Clarence M. Hartman, Acting State Director of the Selective Service system.

Federal Program Will Not Aid State Free Toll Bridges

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer said Tuesday that Federal legislation designed to aid states free toll bridges "will be of no benefit to Pennsylvania tax payers."

The commonwealth has been negotiating for 10 toll bridges under a $7,000,000 fund earmarked by the general assembly.

"The law applies to bridges on Federal aid highways built to certain specifications," he explained.

Federal aid highways built to certain specifications," he explained.

Shroyer indicated none of the bridges sought by the state would qualify under the Federal statute.

Simultaneously, he disclosed that negotiations with bridge operators have been deadlocked for more than six weeks.

"I'm still awaiting answers from the owners of bridges in Allentown and Bethlehem," Shroyer declared. "The commonwealth has been negotiating for two bridges each at Harrisburg and Bethlehem and one each at Sunbury, Allentown, Clarks Ferry, Point Merion, Charleroi and Ellwood City."

Submarine Saves 18 Adrift At Sea In Disabled Boat

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—How the submarine Skipjack rescued 18 civilians after they had spent 33 perilous hours in a disabled drifting fishing boat was today revealed.

The fishing party, including three women, was returning home after a day off the tip of Long Island when the motor failed. The little vessel drifted two hours until it neared a lighthouse where the captain dropped anchor toward night, still unsighted.

The passengers prayed all night for the anchor to hold, but at 3

a. m. the rope snapped. Two ships on the horizon at daybreak failed to spot the disabled craft, but at 2 p. m. the Skipjack suddenly rose to the surface nearby, took the passengers and crew aboard and landed them at Montauk Point, N. Y. the worse for their experience.

AUSTRIA GATHERS NAZI 'SLIME' IN POLICE ROUND-UP

Espionage Agents, Minorities Persecutors Arrested By Austrian Secret Police

VIENNA, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Austrian secret police today were dredging the flotsam of Europe's slimiest Nazi espionage agents and minorities-persecutors. The police were directed by Dr. Ernest Durnayer, a young Communist who fought with the international brigade in the Spanish civil war and later spent five years in Germany's earliest concentration camps in France, Poland and the Reich.

Among the more recently arrested of the "small and big fry" was Ernst Grabner, the "Auschwitz Butcher" who confessed to slaying a million persons. He was busy scribbling a detailed confession while in a brightly-lit solitary cell under 24-hour guard.

Convict Was Former Captor
Grabner formerly was Durnayer's captor at the Auschwitz death camp.

Another old specimen caught recently in the police net was an Oriental calling himself Archimed Beh who blossomed out as proprietor of Vienna's swankiest nightclub. It is named the "Anglo-American club and caters exclusively to Allied officers, and is well patronized."

Police found the place wired with microphones when they looked up Archimed. His record includes the charges of writing anti-Allied articles in Hitler's Volkischer Beobachter, drug traffic charges, Gestapo informing, white slavery, and suspicion of murdering Jews who were brought to his exotically incensed apartment for "entertainment."

Herbert Rolleder, a handsome small time Austrian actor who succeeded simultaneously in acting as Gestapo and Russian agent, also is awaiting trial. He was a leading figure in Nazi political espionage in Austria, Romania and Hungary, and used women friends—mainly actresses—to operate among suspected anti-Nazis.

Rolleder now claims his first loyalty was to the anti-Fascists, though Durnayer's charges clearly show that he double-crossed his employers indiscriminately and used his position to remove stage rivals to concentration camps.

Sgt. Vincent Milton Wins Bronze Medal

(Special To The News)

WITH THE UNITED STATES FORCES IN AUSTRIA—Staff Sergeant Vincent P. Milton, New Bedford Pa. infantryman, has received the Bronze Star Medal for heroic action while serving as squad leader in Belgium in January, 1945.

"Sgt. Milton crossed open terrain to single-handedly wipe out an enemy machine gun nest along with several enemy snipers whose activities had been harassing and holding up the advance of his platoon," his citation reads. "Later in the day, Sgt. Milton volunteered for the dangerous mission of advance scout for his platoon, braving intense sniper, artillery, and mortar fire in order to ascertain the strength and location of enemy elements."

Sgt. Milton, who was Squad Leader of Company "A", 53rd Armored Infantry Battalion, of the Eleventh Armored Division, is the son of Hazel Milton of New Bedford. He attended New Castle Pa. high school before entering service in November, 1942.

Jackson Denies War Trials Being Unduly Delayed

Supreme Court Justice Home For Period Prior To Start Of War Criminal Trials

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief American prosecutor of Axis war criminals, today denied that trials of accused Nazi war criminals have been unduly delayed.

"The trials will come on as early as I ever expected them to, although the trials probably will not start before November 1," Jackson said.

The justice returned to Washington for a brief visit and expects to return to Europe next week to remain until after the first group of Nazis is tried.

Difficulties Encountered
Justice Jackson said that difficulties of language, the necessity of obtaining an agreement among four powers and lack of communications in Germany are some of the reasons for delay in trying the Nazis.

The first hearing will be that of 24 high Nazis in Nuremberg. "It is not decided whether, after the 24 are tried, there will be further groups of officials brought to trial," the justice said.

Jackson explained that the trial of war criminals will be simplified if the Allied military commission accepts a recommendation to brand the German Gestapo and Storm Trooper organizations as criminals. If this is done, he said, members could be tried in local courts.

The justice also denied reports that the trials in Nuremberg would be delayed until a courthouse is constructed. He said that an old criminal court building has been selected and the balcony is being enlarged.

Give Plane's Number In Making Complaint

Although the management of the local airport is striving to prevent hazardous flying over the city or any other area where life and property may be in danger, Fidelity Wilson, manager of the airport, has been able to do nothing about the numerous complaints of low flying which the airport has received because of insufficient evidence.

Before any violation may be filed against a pilot, the management of the airport must have the number of the plane and the description, Mr. Wilson explained. Then it must definitely be determined whether the ship is based at this field and if the person flying is a local pilot.

In each complaint received recently of "aerobatics" at dangerously low levels, the person making the complaint could not give even the number of the plane, and few could give a description. Over many of the cases, the airport management has no jurisdiction as the guilty persons are military personnel, flying military equipment, saluting their friends and families.

Polio Postpones School Opening

LOWER MERION, Pa., Sept. 5.—(INS)—W. A. Dikes, Jr., deputy health officer, postponed Tuesday's opening of Lower Merion parochial schools, because of the spread of infantile paralysis.

Dikes said the delay in opening was ordered due to several new cases of polio being reported within the last ten days. The schools will not open in the township until the board gives notice, he added.

Meanwhile, four new deaths from the disease have been reported in the Philadelphia area.

Navy Enlistment Has Been Widened

All Men Between Ages Of 17 And 30 Years Are Now Eligible For Service In Navy

Navy recruiting stations all over the country are initiating an all out drive for voluntary enlistments, particularly in the regular navy, among men in the age group of 17 to 30 inclusive, who are now eligible by executive order of President Truman. This order lifts the ban against voluntary enlistments in draft age.

The navy's recruiting drive is designed to speed demobilization of men with long war service, to reduce the navy's calls through Selective Service and at the same time to enable the navy to fulfill its extensive responsibilities through the transition period and beyond.

Men interested in a career in the navy are urged to contact the U. S. Navy Recruiting Office, Post Office Building.

Man Revived By City Rescue Squad

New Castle Fire department's rescue squad was called to 405 Vine street Tuesday afternoon, about 3:20 p. m., when Louise West, aged 36 years, of that address, was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from the exhaust of his car while working in his garage.

West was revived by use of the inhalator and later was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital in the fire department ambulance, where he was placed in an oxygen tent. Fire Chief James E. Thomas, Assistant Chief Wilmer H. Hawk and Firemen Horton, Brunton, and Rohrer answered the call.

West's condition today was said to be still critical.

Truk Japs Signed On Local Man's Ship

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gatrall, 408 Hillcrest avenue, listening to a short wave broadcast on Sunday afternoon, were thrilled to learn that the ship on which the Japanese surrender at Truk was signed was the U. S. heavy cruiser Portland, on which their son, Ensign David L. Gatrall, is serving.

An assistant radio officer, Ensign Gatrall went aboard in March to serve in the pre-invasion bombardment of Okinawa and to cover the landings at Okinawa and Ie Shima.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—A 13-county Japanese beetle quarantine on the shipment of fresh fruits and vegetables except green corn in southeastern Pennsylvania was rescinded today by the Department of Agriculture.

Secretary Miles Horst announced simultaneously that green corn may be transported without inspection after September 12 while the fresh flower bud would be removed September 30. Restrictions were imposed June 21.

Portugal Allowed
Allies To Utilize
Azores As Air Base

U. S. British Planes Flew Anti-Submarine Patrols Under Old Friendship Treaty

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The navy disclosed that neutral Portugal permitted American navy planes to base in the Azores for the anti-submarine campaign.

The navy laboratories were secretly admitted into Portuguese territory to aid the British who were given the use of the island of Terceira under an ancient Anglo-Portuguese friendship treaty.

Navy pilots flew anti-submarine patrols under the operational control of the RAF coastal command, side by side with English, Australian, New Zealand and Canadian aviators.

The Azores base was acquired by Great Britain in the fall of 1943. American naval forces moved in January, 1944, but because of diplomatic complications operations did not begin until June of that year. The first contingent was commanded by Capt. William G. Tomlinson of Washington, D. C.

With Portuguese consent, the harbor of Praia on Terceira grew from a tiny fishing port into a harbor capable of berthing modern ocean-going vessels.

Army engineers constructed Lages airfield, which not only served as a patrol plane base, but also enabled combat and transport planes to cross the Atlantic in two flights, cutting out the round-about Brazil-Dakar-North African route.

Urges Motorists
To Drive Careful
In School Zones

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The Keystone Automobile Club urged motorists today to drive with "diligence and patience" in view of the millions of school children who are on the march back to classrooms.

A bulletin put out by the club warns motorists that they "must compensate in their own sense of responsibility for the excusable and wholly understandable irresponsibility of childhood."

Parents, the bulletin added, should set an example by crossing streets properly and instructing their children in the necessity for care and precaution.

France may have to import three millions tons of bread grain this year.

CAN TOMATO JUICE NOW FOR MEALS THIS WINTER

Tomato juice is the most popular of the homemade juices. Its tangy flavor and brilliant red color add zest to any winter meal.

Tomato juice is easy to can and is well worth the time it takes. Use only ripe, firm, and perfect tomatoes. Even when a bad spot is cut out, bacteria may lurk behind to ruin the whole batch.

The easiest way to make the juice is to wash, core and quarter the tomatoes, then simmer until they are soft enough to put through a sieve. Squeeze the tomatoes, then reheat the juice just to boiling. A teaspoon of salt to each quart of juice may be added if desired. Some folks like other seasonings, such as pepper and celery seed. These may be added when canning or just before serving, according to personal taste.

Fill hot clean jars or bottles with the hot juice to within a half inch from the top. Adjust lid and seal according to manufacturer's directions. Process quart jars 15 minutes and pint jars 10 minutes in the boiling water bath, having the water at least 1 inch over the top of the jars or bottles.

Stand jars upright to cool in a place where they are out of the draft. When jars are cold, store them in a cool, dark, dry place.

SEEDLINGS SCARCE

Because of the scarcity of seedlings, farmers interested in doing reforestation should make arrangements now for spring planting stocks of young trees.

Because many reforestation projects were deferred by the war, more than the usual volume of this type of farm activity may be expected, now that the war has ended.

Five New Teachers
At Senior High

Senior high school started the fall school semester today with five new teachers on the faculty, according to C. B. Book, principal.

Mrs. Jack M. Dunlap, Jr., will be the girls health instructor, and Miss Nancy McKee will teach classes in Spanish and English of Miss Ruth Sample who is on sabbatical leave.

Ralph Spear, of Mt. Jackson, will be an instructor in the science department, Joseph Thompson, formerly on the Union high school faculty, will be the boys gym instructor, and Harry Marshall will be an instructor in shop.

Three Veterans
Become Citizens

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Three be-ribboned veterans of the Pacific Tuesday became citizens of the country for which they fought.

The trio came from Deshon General hospital, Butler, Pa., where they are hospitalized, and took the oath of citizenship before Federal Judge Nelson McVicar.

Because of their war service, they did not have to go through the usual naturalization procedure.

They are Pvt. Hans Frederick Wilhelm Pink, 24, of 5502 Thirty-first St., Woodside, Long Island, N. Y., a native of Kiel, Germany; Pfc. Nacario Del Gado Araujo, 28, of 1127 S. Newbury Ave., Chicago, a native of Mexico City, and Cpl. Nicholas Dominique, 35, of 103 Thirty-fourth St., Corona, Long Island, N. Y., a native of Venezuela.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, showed a population of 3,929,326.

Majority Of Schools Get Under Way In Orderly Fashion In Rural Districts Tuesday

With the exception of the Shenango township and Shenango-Taylor joint schools, which resumed sessions today, all the schools in the county district opened Tuesday in orderly fashion, County Superintendent of Schools John C. Sylling announced today.

There were teachers for every school, although it was necessary to use a few substitutes, he stated, and the opening day enrollment indicated that there would be an increase in the total enrollment for the county when all attendance figures are in.

In the Philippine Islands eight languages and 87 dialects are spoken. English and Spanish are the official languages, however.
